All that gossip had to offer in explanation of the drop in Chesapeake and Ohio was a rumor that a Western railroad company had declined to exercise an option in its possession for the purchase from a local banking concern of a block of Chesapeake and Ohio shares, giving practical control of the company.

COTTON MARKET.

Quotations furnished by E. F. Hutton & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange and the New York Cotton Exchange, G. Bowie Chipman, manager, 1301 F street northwest.

New York, June 23.—The cotton market to-day was steady, at a decline of 1 to 14 points, some of the old-crop months remaining quite steady under considerable selling pressure. Good weather reports coming in during the forencon had a tendency to weaken the market, and prices eased off considerably from lack of support by the longs. In the attention of the Cotton and the American Bankers' Association at Atlantic City a form of which had been embodied in a report there framed.

REFI-OUR—Demand poor. Spring patents, 5.50a5.30; a form of which had been embodied in a report there framed.

REFI-UR—Steady; winter straights, 4.20a4.25; w from lack of support by the longs. In the aftermoon the market turned dull and prices sagged perceptibly.

Toward the close there was a mild raily, but the market closed from 35 points below the opening for July to 4 points low for October, these months fairly representing the difference in strength between the 15% did and new crop months.

Men Have Fun and Comfort-Retiring President Reviews Currency Legislation - New Administration Is Inducted Into Office.

The Bankers' Association of the District of Columbia held its annual meeting last night at Rauscher's, electing officers for the ensuing year, and partaking of the usual banquet afterward. Arrangements for this meeting were made principally by William A. Mearns, and he carried out for the evening what was humorously referred to as "a set programme of informality." In the first place, coats were tabooed, evening dress was not thought of, and everybody was made as comfortable as electric fans, neglige shirts, banished cuffs and neck wear could make one on the hottest night of the year. It was not quite "a calico party," but the colors of the shirts worn suggested that phrase to one of the witty bankers present.
